

Federalism Video

Khan Academy: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y6tljCXVSDc&t=129s>

(6:03)

Questions:

- What does federalism mean?
- Why is federalism today like a marble cake?
- What are exclusive powers? Give 2 examples.
- What are concurrent powers? Give 2 examples.
- What is eminent domain?
- How does education show the “marble cake”?

Textbook work:

- Read Article IV of the Constitution?
  - List three ways in which the federal government protects federalism.
- Read pages 96-97.
  - Describe the differences between delegated and implied powers.
  - What are the potential pros and cons of the necessary and proper clause?
- Read page 101.
  - List the potential pros and cons of the Supremacy Clause.
- Read pages 107-109.
  - List the potential pros and cons of cooperative federalism.
- Read and complete the questions on page 110.
- Read pages 111-112.
  - Describe the purpose and exceptions of the Full Faith and Credit Clause.
- Read page 114.
  - Describe the Privileges and Immunities Clause.
- Choose one of the following arguments to defend:

The Constitution has struck a near perfect balance between the power of the Federal Government and the power of the states.	There are serious issues, or potential issues, of proper balance between the power of the Federal Government and the power of the states
---	--